Bourbon and Laundry ???

An odd combination one may say, except in New Orleans. CLEC has just finished building a Speed Queen Coin Laundry store in New Orleans. Called "Suds dems Duds" and located on the corner of Ursulines and Bourbon Street. A 20 year old store that was once a meeting place and an important part of the neighborhood seemed to be on its last call. After meeting with the investor, a plan was put together to bring this laundry back to life with some key goals in mind. Incorporate the New Orleans flavor, by ways of paints, molding, cabinets and decor, use energy efficient equipment, and add drying capacity to the store. CLEC went to work on the layout and the equipment mix.

Speed Queen Quantum controls were picked for both the washers and tumblers.

CLEC replaced the old top load washers with eleven High speed energy efficient Horizons with stainless steel front and side panels. Thus, saving 20 gallons of water per cycle and allowing shorter drying times (saving gas).

Two 40 lb washers were added in order to handle some of the larger loads and provide equipment for the wash dry & fold business. Six 30 lb Stack tumblers with stainless steel front panels were installed to provide the store with 360 lb of drying capacity. Stainless equipment provides the upgrade look and blends well with New Orleans décor.
